Grounds planned and plants furnished that grow in the Rio Grande Delta

ELTWEED POMEROY
A few days ago,
A Prosperous Farmer
Came to La Granja Farm.
He looked anxious,
Wanted to see the Boss, right away.

The Boss took him out to see the trees,
And came back for pencil and order blank.

It seems the Prosperous Farmer
Had a dream about like this:

"It was January, near February,
Mr. Prosperous Farmer had talked with a neighbor
Who had just sold over a thousand dollars
Of Grape-fruit from an acre of trees.
Mr. Prosperous Farmer wanted some grape-fruit
And orange and lemon trees
Around his home—
They are mighty pretty—
He also thought he'd put out five acres
Because they bring in such big returns."

He had seen some signs about La Granja,
Had had Pomeroy's beautiful catalog,
The only one specially gotten up
For this wonderful Delta.
He wrote for the prices and about varieties.

His answer read about like this:

"Dear Sir:—
Thanks for your letter of Jan. 15th.
We are sorry you ask us to do the impossible.
Don't you know our country is at war,
That nursery workers are in the army or navy or making ships or munitions?
That trees are short and hard to get?
That transportation can only be had
In car lots save at excessive expense?
That then it must be prepared by week's of writing
And lots of telegraphing to get thru
In reasonable time?

That so many Fore-handed Farmers realized
These conditions last October and November
That they sent in their orders—
Big orders too for big sizes and best varieties.

Now in January, we have not got
And for neither love nor money, can we get
More of that Improved and Prolific Grape-fruit trees
Which ripen fruit in September and October
And is extraordinarily profitable.

Nor of that Inman Late Grape-fruit
Which does not ripen till end of February
And can stay on tree till July,
And is a big money-maker.

Nor of that beautiful rose-tinted
Grape-fruit the Foster,
For which the swell hotels pay double,
It is so handsome.
We could only get 150 of these to begin with.

Nor of that fine Seedless Orange
Ripening in October and
Commanding top notch prices.
We began season with 2,000 trees—no more now.

Nor of that kid-glove Tangerine
Coming sweet and juicy in time for Christmas
And selling at Holiday prices.

And LEMONS!
We had 1,600 big trees,
5 year roots. 2 year tops,
Will bear the second year.
Trees sold for $175.00 per 100.
Were they high?
No cheap, dirt cheap at that price.
Gone—no more to be obtained.
Prohibition!
Five years ago, lemons cost less than a dollar a crate to grow.
Two years ago, growers got $4.00 to $4.50 a crate
And took off over $2,000.00 an acre.
Now they get $8.00 to $10.00 a crate,
Five to six crates to a tree,
90 to 108 trees to acre,
$4,000.00 to $5,000.00
returns per acre.
You pay 50 or 60 cents a dozen.
You should get on the other end of the lemon proposition.
Trees high at $175.00 per 100?
No! Cheap! "Muy Barata—Muy, Muy Barata!"

Nor of that elegant Persian lime,
Which the best men's clubs fight for,
Because its flavor is delicious;
They want it now they can't get wines, etc.
It is put up in grape-fruit crates,
Holding perhaps half a bushel,
Sells from $6.00 to $10.00 a crate,
A tree will yield 10 to 20 crates,
An hundred trees to acre—Phew.

Nor of that dainty Kumquat
You should see the La Granja trees,
With between three and four thousand Golden fruit on each.
They make a delicious preserve.
Had only 500 when we began to sell.

Then PECANS! Have you seen the La Granja Trees?
With big, paper shell nuts
The kind that sells for a dollar a pound.
Trees nearly sold out.
And the Papaya or tree melons
Are nearly gone.

And those lovely Arbor Vitae, always green
Are sold out.
We bought the only ones in Texas
Early in season.

Other ornamentals are gone or low,
And next year prices will be
Much higher if not doubled.

We can only offer you
Our sincerest sympathy.
Next season we will have more trees
And the advance in prices for 1920,
Will probably not be over double.
We hope to squeeze it down to 50% advance.”

When Mr. Prosperous Farmer
Read that letter thru for the third time,
He wasn’t happy.

Of course he could get cheap trees
Of ordinary varieties
But when a fellow has set his heart on ice cream
For dessert, prunes don’t satisfy.

As Mr. Prosperous Farmer was on verge
Of having a nervous chill,
He woke up.

It was only November
Instead of January,
He had time to get in his order
To get the BEST trees and BEST varieties
Delivered in February, BEST time to plant.
So he hustled off to La Granja,
Which is just a mile east of Donna,
Along the railroad,
The house with wind-mill and flag.

NOW
Print paper is sky high,
Printing costs money—lots
of it.
Postage has been doubled.
Government says economize.

We have a beautiful price list,
Gotten up specially for this Delta,
With nearly an hundred sightly cuts
Of the wonderful plants which grew here.
Hardly believable such a variety,
But most have been tested out at La Granja.
These cost nearly 10 cents each.
They are not going to the man who throws
them away.

One will go to you
If you will sign your name to the attached
card,
Put a 2 cent stamp on it and mail.
